ANTHROPOLOGY’S POLITICS: DISCIPLINING THE MIDDLE EAST

This talk, based on a book co-authored with Lara Deeb, examines the complex pressures that shape how U.S. scholars research and teach about the Middle East. Using ethnographic and archival research on Middle East anthropology as a lens onto the broader politics of U.S. academe, it reveals the persistence consequences of ongoing racism, sexism, Islamophobia, and anti-Palestinian prejudice within the academy.

Co-sponsored with Anthropology Dept. For more information, contact: Audrey.Aduama@tufts.edu