Tufts University
Department of Art and Art History

Presents

“Michelangelo, Bandinelli, and Bernini: The Long Goodbye.”

A Tomasso Lecture
by

Dr. Maria Loh, University College London

Dr. Maria H. Loh teaches the history of early modern Italian art and theory at University College, London. She received her BA in History from McGill University (1993), and her MA and PhD (2003) from the University of Toronto. She was a predoctoral fellow at the Getty Research Institute (2000-2002), a junior research fellow at St Hilda’s College Oxford (2003-2004), the recipient of a Philip Leverhulme Prize (2007-2009), and is currently a Member at the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton (2012-2013).

Monday, February 4, 2013, 5:30pm
Granoff Music Center, Room 155
20 Talbot Ave.