Today's Racing:

Simmons College, Smith College, Wellesley College, and Tufts University Women's Crews will compete on the Malden River Saturday, April 25, 2009 in the 2nd Annual Malden River Spirit Regatta. The Tufts University Varsity Women's Eight won the inaugural event in a nail biting finish in last year's grand final over a determined Simmons Crew and will seek to make it two in a row today. The Malden River Spirit Award is emblematic of supremacy in the race series which has been held annually on the Malden River since 2002. The award represents the tradition of competitive spirit and sportsmanship exemplified by the coaches and athletes of the three guest schools as well as the athletes from Tufts, and has been commissioned and donated by the Tufts Coaching Staff.

Saturday is also Senior Day at Shoemaker Boathouse, and the final home race for the class of 2009. Senior women's crew co-captains Kaitlin Mula and Stephanie St. Thomas, rowers Lange Clancy, Meredith Forbes, Marieke Kester, Elizabeth Burke, Elsie Black, Kerri Martin, Rebecca Herbst, and Kate Siegel, along with coxswain Jocelyn Pinkerton, will be making their final racing sojourns on the Malden River Saturday morning. Men's co-captains Robbie Bayless and Nahv Etadali, along with fellow rowers Eren Bucak, Kevin Conroy, and David Orellano will also make their farewell appearances competing against crews from Middlebury College. Racing begins at 9:45 AM.

The Park at River's Edge:

The Park at River's Edge is a world-class, 10-acre riverfront park with over 1/3 mile of frontage along the Malden River. The Park provides a great environment for tenants of the offices, residents of the luxury housing, Tufts University rowers and competitors, and anyone who enjoys a varied riverfront park environment.

The Park, designed by JP Shadley Associates, includes a picturesque mixture of open parkland with trees, shrubs and flowers. In constructing the Park over 8000 plants were added including approximately 2000 plants in the 1.5 acres of wetlands which have been created or restored. The Park is irrigated with well water.

The lighted Park features 100 yards of sculptured granite seat walls at multiple overlooks from which to view the river and other Park vistas. There are also great views from many of the 44 MWH Helmstadt Benches strategically located throughout the Park

The William A. Shoemaker Boathouse:

A highlight of the Park is the William A. Shoemaker Boathouse which houses the university's men's and women's crew teams. The boathouse, which opened in 2006, was designed by Peterson Architects of Cambridge, MA. During 2009 spring racing season, Tufts has hosted several regattas at River's Edge, which included as participants such colleges as Bates, Boston College, Colby, Mount Holyoke, New Hampshire, Tulane, Vermont, Wesleyan, and Williams.
