Olivia Schultes ‘18
Fulbright Winner

Olivia discovered a passion for the relationship between infrastructure and health while working on her senior undergraduate thesis, where she examined the management of improved water sources in rural areas in Ghana. During her year in Brazil, she will be based at the UFMG (Federal University of Minas Gerais) examining both formal and informal trash collection systems in Belo Horizonte, the capital of the state of Minas Gerais.