

Fall 2017 Course

ED 189: Role of Story in Education

In this course, you will have the opportunity to explore "education" as a narrative that runs through each of our lives and frames so much of how we develop our ideas and how we make sense of the world. Students will read a variety of texts about essential education ideas. Through weekly response papers and digital storytelling, students will examine how these ideas shape our lives in very powerful ways. Open to undergraduates.

Tuesday/Thursday 12 - 1:15PM

Linda Beardsley