Supporting Educators to Address the Educational and Social-Emotional Needs of Students and Families

Tuesday, November 21st, 4:30–8pm
Tufts University, Paige Hall, Crane Room
(12 Upper Campus Road Medford, MA)
Refreshments and Light Dinner

Learn more about how K-12 educators are working to support students and families affected by the repeal of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). This event features a panel of educators (5pm) followed by breakout dialogue groups (6pm).

Please RSVP with breakout group choice by November 15th to michelle.pare@tufts.edu

Breakout topics include:
• Managing one’s own anxiety and building one’s own social-emotional stamina
• Supporting our colleagues and family, and promoting awareness
• Cultural Responsiveness and community Resilience
• Working in institutions not addressing DACA concerns

Sponsored by the Department of Education, Tisch College Social-Emotional Learning & Civic Engagement Initiative, and Eliot-Pearson Department of Child Study and Human Development
