

Lerman-Neubauer Prize for Outstanding Teaching and Advising

- Awarded annually to a faculty member who has had a profound intellectual impact on his or her students, both inside and outside the classroom.
- Nominated by graduating seniors.
- Presented annually to a member of the faculty of Arts and Sciences or of Engineering.
- Selection committee consists of the Dean of Undergraduate Education and the two previous recipients.

Past Award Winners

2017	Ming Chow, Computer Science
2016	Susan Koegel, Biology
2015	Norman Ramsey, Computer Science
2014	Sarah Sobieraj, Sociology
2013	David J. Proctor, History
2012	David Art, Political Science
2011	Benjamin Hescott, Computer Science
2010	Harry Bernheim, Biology
2009	Chris Swan, Civil & Environmental Engineering
2008	Calvin Gidney, Child Development
2007	Sam Sommers, Psychology
2006	Lee Edelman, English
2005	Juliet Fuhrman, Biology
2004	Edith Balbach, Community Health
2003	Steven Cohen, Education
2002	George Norman, Economics
2001	Kevin Dunn, English
2000	James Glaser, Political Science
1999	Jeanne Penvenne, History
1998	Gerald Gill, History