In March 2004, FRAC granted me $1092.00 to defray the cost of indexing my book, Building Local States: China in the Republican and Post-Mao Eras. I was subsequently able to engage the services of a professional indexer, David Prout, and he produced an excellent index. The editor was so pleased with the index that he has indicated his interest in asking David to do additional work for the press. The book will ship at the end of May, 2004. I am very grateful to FRAC for making these funds available to me and helping me to produce the very best first book that I could.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth J. Remick
