Brown Bag Lunch

Wednesday, December 15, 12:00-1:00PM
"Who’s Really Paying Their Fair Share of Taxes in the United States?"

Brian Roach, Senior Research Associate at the Global Development And Environment Institute

The 2010 debate over extending the 2001 and 2003 Bush tax cuts often focused on the fairness of the tax distribution in the United States. Unfortunately, discussions of tax fairness rarely took into account the distribution of the overall tax system, typically focusing only on the federal income tax or on federal taxes without consideration of the state and local tax system. Roach will discuss how focusing on just one component of the tax system, such as the federal income tax, ignores the distributional impacts of other components of the tax system.

Global Development And Environment Institute
44 Teele Ave ● Somerville, MA 02144

GDAE is located just off Packard Avenue
For questions or directions contact Lauren Denizard at lauren.denizard@tufts.edu

To find out about more about the Brown Bag Lunch Series and other GDAE events please visit http://www.ase.tufts.edu/gdae/events.html