

TC6: IDENTITY

TC6 focuses on how individuals perceive themselves in their relationships to the world through prisms such as gender, class, religion, race, nationality, and ethnicity. Courses in the TC6 concentration must foreground how identity bears upon international affairs.

Requirements

In addition to the 5 Core Requirements and the IR Language Requirement, students must take a total of 7 courses to complete their Thematic Concentration. No more than 3 of the 7 courses may be an introductory level course (marked with *).

TC6 Requirements are as follows:

- 2 social science courses
- 1 history course
- 1 culture course
- 1 research methods course (See the Courses page for a list of approved courses.)
- 1 capstone course (A capstone course may be an upper level seminar course, senior honors thesis, or directed research. See the Capstone page for more information.)
- 1 elective course (Any course approved for this concentration.)

Please Note: It is possible that a single course may satisfy more than one concentration requirement. For example, ANTH 170 Seminar: Colonizing Time, satisfies both the social science and capstone requirements. If students complete the above requirements with fewer than 7 courses, they can choose any additional courses from the concentration to reach the required 7 total courses.

Frequently Asked Questions

- If a course is approved for both a Core and TC6, can I double count it? NO
- If a course is approved for both my TC6 culture requirement and one of my IR language semesters, can I double count it? NO

Historical Course Listing

The course listing below is comprised of all the TC6 courses approved by the IR Curriculum Committee. For the most up-to-date and current info, view course offerings by semester via the Courses page. In addition, course ID #'s, titles, and prerequisites often change from semester to semester so check SIS or individual departments for the most up-to-date info. If you have any question about whether or not a course counts for your concentration, please contact the IR Office.
