More than four million Palestinians live under Israeli occupation. Their movement is circumscribed, and the threat of violence often hangs overhead. Through her work, award-winning photographer Tanya Habjouqa explores the moments when ordinary men and women demonstrate a desire to live, not just simply survive.

Refreshments will be provided

Co-sponsored by the Anthropology Department